Success of First Hawaiian Secondary Offering of Common Stock

On Tuesday 31 January 2017, First Hawaiian, Inc. ("FHI") announced the pricing of a secondary offering of shares of its common stock (the "Secondary Offering").

The Secondary Offering comprises 25.0 million shares, or 17.9% of FHI’s common stock, to be sold by an affiliate of BNP Paribas at a public offering price per share of USD 32 representing an aggregate public offering price of approximately USD 800 million.

BNP Paribas has granted the underwriters a 30-day option to purchase up to an additional 3.75 million shares of FHI common stock. If the underwriters exercise this option in full, the total offering would comprise 28.75 million shares, or 20.6% of FHI’s common stock, to be sold by an affiliate of BNP Paribas.

Following the Secondary Offering, BNP Paribas will hold 64.6% of FHI’s common stock (or 62.0% if the underwriters exercise the option to purchase additional shares in full), which are subject to a 90-day lock up.

After the completion of the Secondary Offering, BNP Paribas will continue to fully consolidate FHI in its financial statements. It is expected that this transaction will have a positive impact of close to 10 basis points on the Group CET1 ratio in the first quarter.

A registration statement relating to FHI’s common stock has been filed with, and declared effective by, the Securities and Exchange Commission. The offering has been made only by means of a prospectus. This press release shall not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy, nor shall there be any sale of these securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdiction.
